

POST CARDS were a popular way of sending greetings either within New Zealand or overseas.

In 1909 the New Zealand Post Office processed an amazing 14 million postcards when the total population was only one million people !

Now we send greetings by email or text message, or we skype our friends and family .

Send the future you a postcard from the present.
Write yourself a message of inspiration today.
Put it in a safe place and read it in your future..
